Graduation Guide

Berklee college of music

Dear Seniors,

Well, it won't be long now. Soon you'll be out in the real world. Hopefully, the great education and experience you've gained here at Berklee have prepared you well for what lies ahead.

But now is not the time for speeches; there will be plenty of time for that during commencement. Now is the time to plan for graduation events.

We prepared this booklet to help you and your family get a handle on the events that are part of commencement at Berklee. There will be more information coming to you, but this guide gives you a great overview.

If you or your family has any questions about Commencement 2007, contact my office at 617 747-2231 or email us at vpsa@mail.berklee.edu. If you or your guests need accommodations because of a disability, contact my office for assistance.

Graduation is an exciting time of the year at Berklee, and the most important event in your college experience. I wish you the best and hope you enjoy every minute of the events planned for you.

Sincerely,

Lawrence E. Bethune
Dean of Students

Submit Music and Memorabilia for the Senior Farewell Video

To have the video truly represent the class of 2007, your help is needed. You can submit memorabilia (pictures, photo CDs) and original music materials (recordings of songs, instrumental pieces) that can be included in the presentation, preferably in CD format. Submit any photos and music to the Student Activities Center, 130 Massachusetts Avenue by 5:00 p.m. on Wednesday, March 14. by 5:00 pm. Make sure that your materials are in an envelope and clearly labeled with your full name, student mailbox number, phone number, email address, so that we can return all materials to you.

Seal and Motto

The Berklee seal has been a symbol of the college since its earliest years. The seal uses the traditional shield as its basic design. The upper left quadrant is adorned by the classic "B" for Berklee. The surrounding ribbon is inscribed with the name of the college.

Berklee's motto is Esse quam videri. The translation of this Latin phrase is "to be, rather than to seem" or "to be, rather than to appear to be."

Official Colors

The official colors of Berklee College of Music are red and gray.

A Message to the Class of 2007

Dear Graduate:

Congratulations to you on your upcoming graduation this May. In a few months you will be joining the impressive roster of Berklee alumni, and in welcoming you, I would like to take a quick moment to share a few services that the college provides to alumni.

Several years ago, the college introduced lifetime email accounts for all alumni; to date, we have approximately 9,000 alumni using the service. In addition, use of the alumni website has dramatically increased, and more graduates are taking advantage of the alumni directory, the employment and performance listings, Berklee Today online, alumni notes, alumni event listings, gig listings, message boards, alumni discounts, and news and information regarding the college.

As we continue to build Berklee's online presence, we urge you to become involved. Exciting initiatives such as Berkleemusic.com and the alumni grant program have provided additional resources to graduates, and more plans are forthcoming.

The college continues to be committed to providing more services to our alumni, and by staying connected to Berklee, you will see the benefits firsthand. We know the importance of networking in this industry. A great way to stay connected with friends, the college, and the alumni community is through the alumni publication, Berklee Today (or, if you decide to leave Boston after graduation, through our domestic and international alumni chapters).

The Office of Alumni Affairs continues to promote alumni activities, and hosts more than 60 alumni events annually. Recent events have included Opportunities in the Film and TV World, Getting Paid to Play, AES and IAJE alumni receptions, How Music Gets out of the Clubs and into the Press, and alumni showcases.

As you prepare for postgraduation plans, I urge you to begin thinking about how our office can assist your future endeavors. The Berklee alumni community is more than 40,000 strong, and we look forward to helping you continue your relationships with each other and with the college. Feel free to contact me directly at 617 747-2449, or stop by my office in room 6A on the sixth floor of the 1140 Boylston Street building.

Congratulations once again,

Karen A. Bell '90

Accessibility Guide for Agganis Arena at BU

The following services have been implemented to help accommodate the needs of our guests with disabilities.

Accessible Seating The Agganis Arena offers accessible and companion seating located on the concourse and event levels for all events (accessible seating locations are subject to change based on the seating configuration for various events). Contact the Dean of Students Office 617 747-2231 if you require accessible and companion seating.

Drop-Off Location/Main Lobby Entrance The accessible drop-off location is located on the corner of Harry Agganis Way and Commonwealth Avenue. The main lobby entrance is accessible to guests with disabilities as are all arena entrances, hallways, and pathways.

Parking Accessible parking spaces are available in all parking lots associated with the arena.

Elevators Guests with disabilities receive preferential access to elevators during all arena events. The Agganis Arena has four passenger elevators: two in the southeast corner of the arena serving Lot A, and one each in the southwest and northwest corners of the arena providing access from the arena lobby to the concourse level.

Restrooms All public restrooms are equipped with accessible sinks, stalls, and amenities. There are 15 public restrooms located throughout the arena. Nine public restrooms are located on the concourse level, four are located on the entry level, and two are located on the event level. All public restrooms are equipped with baby-changing stations and are accessible to guests in wheelchairs.

Telephones The arena has two public pay phones adjacent to the main lobby ticket box office. All the public pay phones are accessible to guests in wheelchairs and one is equipped for TTY/TDD use.

Assisted Listening Devices (ALD) Assisted listening devices are free of charge and available for all events courtesy at Guest Services, located in the northeast section of the arena on the concourse level. For security purposes, a valid driver's license or major credit card is required and will be returned when the listening devices are returned to Guest Services. A text messaging service is also available in which the announcements are sent to a handheld device for the guest to read. This service is free of charge but requires the guest to give 48 hours notice prior to event.

Service Animals Service animals that assist guests with disabilities are welcome in the arena. Service animals must remain on a leash or in a harness at all times. Please contact the Office of the Dean of Students if you intend to bring a service animal to an event so an aisle seat may be reserved for you.

Special Assistance The Agganis Arena offers special assistance to guests with disabilities through Guest Services. Guests are encouraged to provide as much advance notice as possible to the arena prior to the start of an event to help ensure that their request for special assistance may be met. For further details or to arrange for special assistance, contact the Dean of Students Office at 617 747-2231.

Congratulations to the Class of 2007!

The Berklee Bookstore will be at the commencement ceremony providing the opportunity to purchase Berklee apparel, gifts, and graduation announcements, as well as recognition rings and jewelry.

The bookstore, located at 1080 Boylston Street, will also be open for your added convenience on the day of the ceremony.
